

A New Day at Cheyney

A new vision. A new trajectory. A new leadership team. A new approach to student success. A new business model. New strategic partners. And a renewed commitment to excellence.

Under the compelling leadership of President Aaron A. Walton, Cheyney University is garnering attention for its powerful vision, bold strategic plan, and remarkable progress.

As the next step in our plan, Cheyney has launched a fundraising campaign appropriately titled the "Resurgence." Your generous support will help us maintain our momentum and ensure that our students have access to the best that higher education has to offer.
